

Memoirs

WIS R. DUNN.

BY SPELLMEYER.

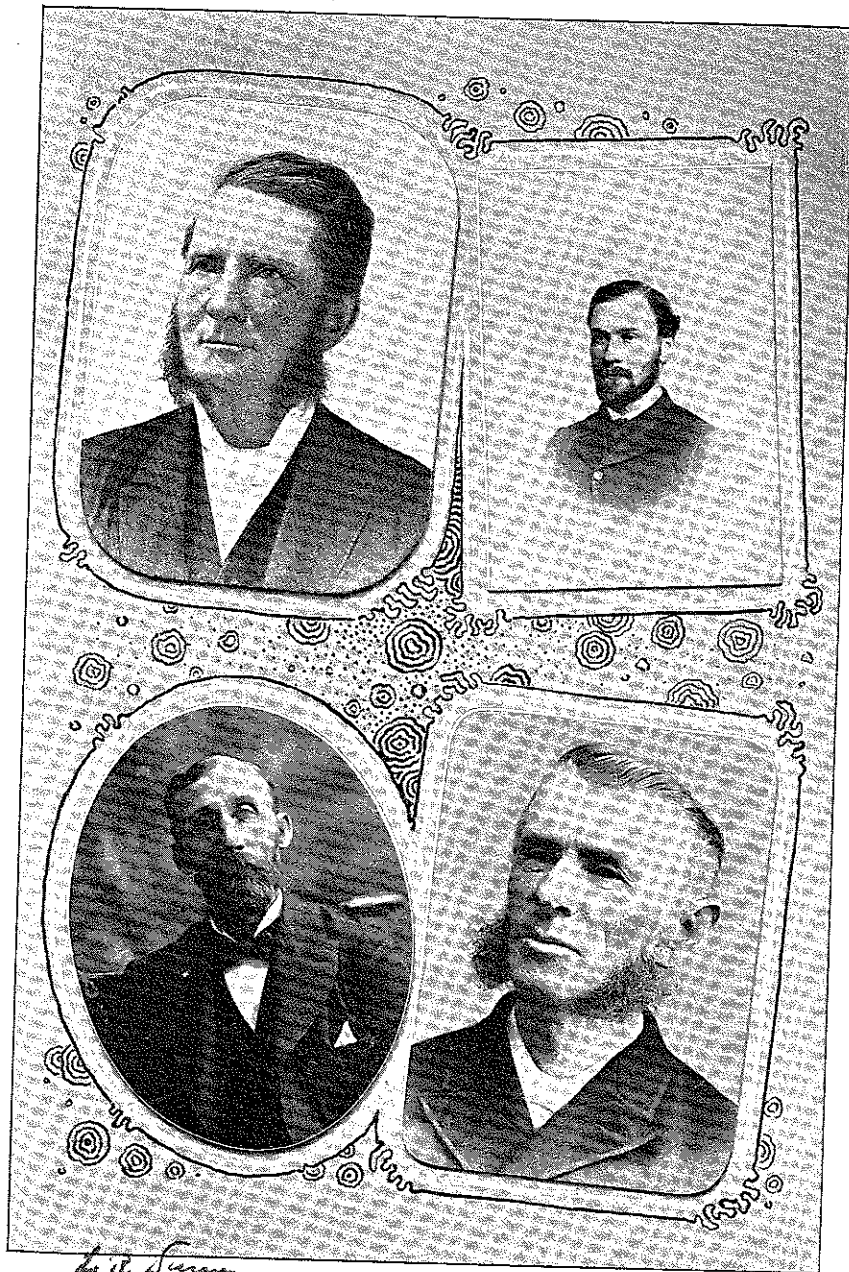

born in the city of New Brunswick, N. J., was Ephraim Pratt Dunn, and the name Pierson, sister of Daniel Pierson, a nameism in this city. His fifteenth year, on November 14, 1836, of deep religious impressions, and his things else his early conversion. In the pal Church, in Newark, following a sermons, then assistant editor of the Christian forward for prayer, and received satsdiary contains this record: "I went homeied me to church. The family, although o hear the joyful intelligence. That was o warn sinners, and invite them to come mates were soon converted."

to be a minister, he began preparatory received a license to exhort. In August, M. Tuttle having partly failed, he went sermon in the old Kingwood Church. e Rev. R. W. Petherbridge to labor on ch charge he was recommended to the

At the Conference held in Newark in appointed with Rev. Joseph M. Pierson e he became acquainted with Miss Sarah d became his wife, and who to-day, the ly mourns his departure.

erved during his long and useful minis- l. J.; 1842-3, Rockaway, N. J.; 1844-5, l. J.; 1847-8, Middletown Point, N. J.; Island; 1851-2, Supernumerary; 1853, 54-5, Paterson, N. J. (Prospect Street); h); 1857, New Brunswick, N. J. (Lib- (First Church); 1860-1 Jersey City, Morristown, N. J.; 1864-5-6, Newark, ersey City, N. J. (St. Paul's Church); s Church); 1872-3-4, Paterson, N. J. Newark, N. J. (Halsey Street Church); Church); 1880-1-2-3, presiding elder urch, Staten Island; 1885-6-7, Jersey 1888-9-90, Elizabeth, N. J. (Fulton sponding secretary American Sabbath Rahway, N. J. (First Church); 1894, J.; 1896-7-8, Supernumerary.

emarkable for untiring industry. He of one work, who faithfully kept the cher's conduct, "Be diligent. Never

H. P. Doane
H. P. DOANE.

T. H. HAGGERTY.
CORNELIUS CLARK.

Memoirs

VIS R. DUNN.

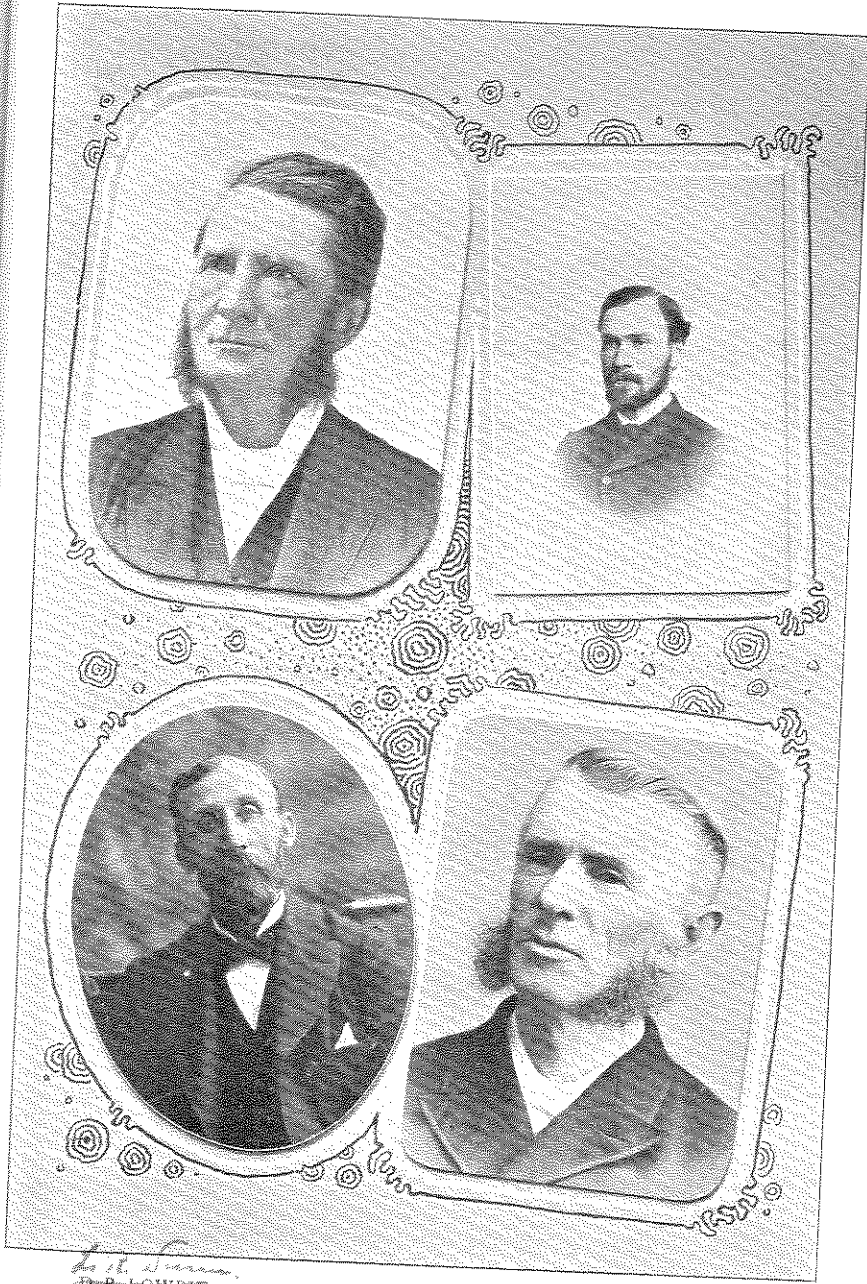

RY SPELLMEYER.

born in the city of New Brunswick, N. J., his father was Ephraim Pratt Dunn, and the name of his mother was Sarah Pierson, sister of Daniel Pierson, a name prominent in the history of this city.

At his fifteenth year, on November 14, 1836, he was converted, and his mind was filled with deep religious impressions, and his heart was drawn to the Christian Church, in Newark, following a sermon by Rev. R. W. Petherbridge, then assistant editor of the Christian Register, and received satisfaction for prayer, and received satisfaction for prayer, and received satisfaction for prayer. The family, although they were not converted, were soon converted.

At the Conference held in Newark in 1841, he was appointed with Rev. Joseph M. Pierson to be a minister, he began preparatory to receive a license to exhort. In August, 1842, M. Tuttle having partly failed, he went to Newark, N. J., to labor on the charge he was recommended to the charge of the old Kingwood Church, where he was recommended to the charge of the old Kingwood Church, where he was recommended to the charge of the old Kingwood Church.

At the Conference held in Newark in 1841, he was appointed with Rev. Joseph M. Pierson to be a minister, he began preparatory to receive a license to exhort. In August, 1842, M. Tuttle having partly failed, he went to Newark, N. J., to labor on the charge he was recommended to the charge of the old Kingwood Church, where he was recommended to the charge of the old Kingwood Church.

Doane
D. R. LOWRIE.
H. P. DOANE.

T. H. HAGGERTY.
CORNELIUS CLARK.