HEAD

the daughter of her sister, Mrs. Amanda McCool, died March 5th, 1916, aged 87 years.

She was born in Rockcastle County, Ky., in February, 1829, at the age of 6 to Morgan County, Illinois, and settling in Carthage, where Mr. John Head lived on the east side of the Square.

Her father built the frame residence on the westward occupied by the family until a few years ago. Her mother, Miss Mary, Mrs. Head went to live with her sister, Mrs. Butler. Mrs. Butler lived at her home with her sister, Mrs. McCool, a member of this well known pioneer family life to Rev. Allen Head, who died in 1889. She was a life long member of the Methodist choir when a young woman.

Her father and she will ever be remembered for their life, she had great vitality and her last illness was and required the care of a special funeral service in Carthage Tuesday by Mr. Elmar and Miss Effie McCool. It was taken to the Methodist Church from the train, where funeral services were held, the Rev. J. W. Ferris officiating. Interment was in the family lot at Carthage cemetery.

J. W. FERRIS.

JANE ELIZABETH HANEY

Jane Elizabeth Haney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew T. Sherman, was born in Geneseo, Wis., Dec. 14, 1844. Mr. Sherman and family soon moved to Evanston, Ill., where the daughter grew to womanhood, receiving her education at Aurora, Ill., and in the Woman's College at Evanston. She was united in marriage to the Rev. James W. Haney June 18, 1862. For thirty-eight years they labored together in the work of the ministry, sharing the joys and cares of their "labor of love," to which they gave themselves with unstinted devotion. She was an ideal preacher's wife, ready to help, and efficient in every line of church work. She was especially helpful in the great revivals that characterized Dr. Haney's ministry, as a personal worker and the leader of the singing. She was a woman of great strength of character, a keen reader of human character, of intelligence, of a deeply religious nature, with strong convictions on the right and wrong of important questions.

She became the mother of four children, and was ideal in this relation. Her husband passed to his reward in April, 1900, and the eldest daughter, Mrs. Nellie Shute, in March, 1913. The three surviving children are Mrs. Adaline Richards, and the Rev. Richard S. Haney, of Moline, Ill., and Mrs. Mary L. Ioder, of Odell, Ill. One sister, Mrs. Adaline Palmer, of Santa Anna, Cal., also survives her. Mrs. Haney was a remarkable woman in her attitude toward an affliction of many years standing, in her patience and cheerful disposition, never once uttering a word of complaint, but bravely and sweetly receiving what life offered. The crisis in her illness came during the winter of 1916, when with the daughter living in Odell, and on Easter Sunday morning, April 23, 1916, she went home to be with Jesus forever. The funeral service was held at the home of Mrs. Richards, Moline, in charge of the Rev. J. E. Connor, assisted by Dr. R. G. Pearce and the Rev. C. T. Cady.

MRS. C. E. DUNLEVY

Addie Eudora Piper, youngest daughter of Daniel and Maranda Piper, was born in Lenox, Ashtabula County, Ohio, Sept. 2, 1861. When four years of age she moved with her parents to Liberty Center, O., where she lived until her mother's death in 1879, after which she made her home with her sister, Mrs. Nellie Frisch, of Toledo, until the time of her marriage to Charles E. Dunlevy, of El Paso, Ill., Nov. 23, 1889.

Having been born in the days of the beginning of the Civil War, she seems to have caught the spirit of the times and was of a fervently patriotic mind. One of her brothers starved in Andersonville, another was killed at Perryville, Ky., and her father served through the war and was honorably discharged.

Her brother and sister Dunlevy were born two children: Paul Osmer and Vera M. Both survive the mother.

In the fall of 1890 she with her husband, entered the work of the Meth-
