XII. MEMOIRS

ALBERT LINCOLN OLSON

Albert Lincoln Olson was born at Huxley, Ia., January 10, 1882, and died August 6, 1920, in the Methodist Hospital at Rapid City, S. D., following a severe operation. He was married in 1911 to Miss Florence Seiden, who survives him, with their little daughter, Phyllis. He was graduated from the Cambridge high school and Cornell College, Mount Vernon, and later from the school of theology of Boston University. He joined the Dakota Conference on trial and was ordained an elder in 1917. He served successful pastorates at Wagner and Hot Springs, and was appointed to the Church at Madison at the annual conference of 1919. He entered this important field with enthusiasm and devotion and was completing a notable year when suddenly, as he was homeward bound from a delightful vacation in the Black Hills, he passed into that fair country where the folks live forever.

Brother Olson was an able preacher and a splendid pastor. His sermons were carefully prepared and delivered with an earnestness and sympathy which never failed to please and impress his people. He excelled as a pastor and was welcomed with eagerness into the homes of his parish. His pleasing appearance, attractive personality, unflinching courtesy, and genuine interest in people gave him influence far beyond the confines of his Church and recognition as an outstanding man in the community.

His funeral was held in our church at Madison. Among the great congregation were more than twenty of his ministerial brethren from the district and conference. The address was given by his district superintendent, Dr. J. S. Hoagland, of Sioux Falls. His body was buried in Graceland Cemetery adjoining the city of his last labor; but he rests from his labor in that city which hath foundation and his works do follow him.

JOHN R. KRINS

Rev. J. R. Krins was born June 2nd, 1873, North Plymouth, Mass. He was about 47 years of age at the time of his untimely death. He was converted when a young man, and has ever since been a zealous worker for the uplift of man.

He served his first pastorate in Southington, Ohio. While serving his second year at that place, he was called to the work in South Dakota, where he served Canistota two years, Centerville, five years, Claremont four years, and was serving his first year at Northville when the final summons of his Lord came to him.

Brother Krins was an expert plumber and was in charge of an important business in Boston, Mass., when he received his call to the ministry. Abandoning a lucrative position and a home with every modern convenience he gave himself without reserve to the cause of Christ, and for twelve years preached as a local preacher.
