By Order of the Conference

victories and the outlook for still greater results in the future have been made possible by our great Centenary Movement.

It is sad to say, however, that a great crisis in both our foreign and home fields is now on because the Centenary subscriptions, the past two years, have fallen off. Unless the special plea now before the church for $2,000,000.00 extra is raised, before October 31st, there will be a large reduction in appropriations for next year for both foreign and home fields. The effects of this would be disastrous in many respects.

As a Conference we pledge to do our utmost in raising our full apportionments for the coming year.

J. R. CLAYTON

REPORTS ON THE BIBLE

We believe that the Bible is the inspired Word of God; that it was written by holy men of old, as they were moved by the Holy Spirit.

We believe the teachings of this Holy Book from the first verse of Genesis to the last verse of Revelations.

A copy of this book should be in every home and should be read and studied carefully, prayerfully and under the direction of the Holy Ghost, indicated this word and is therefore its only real interpreter.

Let us remember that, "His Word is a lamp to our feet and a light to our path." Let us take it as the man of our council—the try-square, the plumb line and the spirit-level, by which we are to adjust our lives.

(Signed)

D. J. PROCTOR

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PERIODICALS

We, the Committee on Periodicals desire to stress the importance of the use of our periodicals and books. We wish to extend the thanks of the Conference for the help and inspiration we all received through the columns of the church paper, the Methodist Advocate Journal. We also extend our thanks to the publishing house for the numerous tracts and pamphlets that have been so helpful in our work. And we resolve, as pastors to try to get our people to see the importance of taking our church periodicals in order to keep abreast of the plans and movements of our great and beloved church, and for the spiritual help that we all need so much. (Signed)

P. M. WEAVER

H. S. ALBIN—Committee.

IN MEMORIAM

Stricklin.—Rev. Samuel H. Stricklin was born in Lincoln County, Tennessee, Oct. 22, 1838; died at the home of his son, S. C. Stricklin, in Adair, Okla., Oct. 1, 1922, aged 84 years and 21 days. Brother Stricklin was married to Sarah E. J. Brewer, Jan. 8, 1862. He leaves the wife, three sons, S. C., W. Z., and J. W. Stricklin, and one daughter, Mrs. Josie Jernigan. Bro. Stricklin served as a volunteer in the Union army in the sixties, and it was said made a gallant soldier. In 1869, 53 years ago, he joined the Tennessee now the Central Tennessee Conference and gave many years of service on various charges. Brother Stricklin was not without fault, but I believe it could be said of him as was said of Barnabas, "He was a good man". He had an intense nature that sometimes manifested itself in opposition to the view of his brethren and then like Paul in differing with Peter at Antioch he would withstand them to their face. In fact his was a stormy life, and it is possible that his brethren and others frequently misunderstood him. At Collinwood three years ago, he seemed enfeebled in body and mind, but he expressed to the writer of this brief sketch his abiding faith in the Saviour, of whom he had preached, and an unshaken hope of the rest that remaineth for the people of God. He was proud of his splendid nephews, W. H. and T. J. Stricklin, who gave their lives to the church, for which their Uncle Sam would have been willing to die. We have no data as to what occurred in his last hours, but trust the pilot was in sight when he put out to sea.—J. D. HOLLAND., D. P. HART, Committee.

Teasley.—William M. Teasley was born more than sixty years ago and departed this life in Putnam County Tenn. April 4th, 1922. Brother Teasley was a man of great consecration and earnest endeavor. He was converted in middle life and gave himself to the ministry in the mountains of Tennessee, where he served eighteen years as a supply in the Baxter District of the Central Tennessee Conference. The Maggart and Haseville Charges each had him as their pastor twice; besides, he served the following charges one or more years each: Red Springs, Byrdstown, Monroe, Hollow Springs, Smithville and Silver Point. He had a limited education which fact prevented him from seeking membership in the Conference. But he had good common sense, coupled with a rich flow of Irish wit that often stood him well in hand. He was earnest, honest, industrious, agreeable and loyal in every sense. He filled with the hardest and poorest places without complaint. Brother Teasley had a slight stroke of paralysis in Aug. 1921 from which he never fully recovered. But, as soon as he was on his feet again, he was at his work and continued at it until God called him home. A less heroic soul would have long before given up the work but this brave soldier of the Cross could not be content unless he was at the forefront of the battle. The first Sunday in April, of this year, he filled his appointment and stayed over night with a neighbor. On Monday morning he was found in his room sick. He was taken to his home and on Wednesday, at 4 o'clock in the morning, he passed to that clime where there is no more sorrow, pain and death. The next day we laid him to rest in the cemetery at Silver Point, Tenn., to wait the call of the resurrection.—B. W. BLESSING, Committee.

Stricklin.—The Reverend Thomas Jefferson Stricklin, aged 62 years, 4 months and 6 days, breathed his last in the parsonage on Linden Avenue, Lexington, Tenn., on Thursday morning, at 2:30 o'clock, April 6, 1922. He was born in Wayne County, Tennessee, Nov. 30, 1859, where he grew to manhood. His education was acquired in the local schools in the communi-
