Rev. C.B. Dawsey is the son of the late Cyrus Dawsey, an exhorter in the Southern Methodist Church, who was especially gifted in scul winning. If he had not died as a young man it is probable that he would have been known xan active ministry and become one of our outstanding preachers. Mr. Dawsey was born in Horry County, South Carolina, and was reared by his mother, who was a widow with assist small children. Mr. Dawsey attended Wofford Ucllege, finishing with the class of 1910. While a freshman in this school he joined the Student Volunteer Band, being much influenced by a Japanese classmate to take an interest in missions. He served for a quadrennium as pastor of the Methodist church . at Pacolet Mills, S.C. and was afterwards transferred to the Brazil conference. Mr. Hawsey is now pastor at Biriguy, Central Brazil conference, Northwest District. He has been on the field since 1914. .

IN BISHOP DAWSEY'S address on The Contribution of South Carolina Methodism to the Coming of the Kingdom of God in Brazil (the 1960 address of the S. C. Conference Historical Society), his extreme modesty dictated an almost total exclusion of the tremendous contribution made by the Dawsey family itself. The Historical Society, meeting at the time of the Annual Conference in Columbia, S. C., in June of 1960, voted that an addendum be written for the purpose of recording the work of the Dawseys, one of the most outstanding families of Methodist missions in Brazil. At the present time, the years of service of this one family (not including inlaws) total 150. Since three of the second generation are still young, it well may be that the eventual total may set a record in years of service given by one family.

Cyrus B. Dawsey, his wife, Ethel Sanders Dawsey, and infant daughter Ethel set out for Brazil in 1914, "not knowing whither they went," for they had volunteered to go to Japan and had even given consideration to Cuba, but none to Brazil. At a district conference in Spartanburg in 1913, the Rev. J. L. Kennedy presented the needs of Brazil so strongly that the Spartanburg District volunteered to support a and cultural standards of the communimissionary family in that country, and the Dawsey family answered the call.

his best to the extension of the church in faraway places. For twenty-one years, in dust and rain and heat Cyrus B. Dawsey penetrated the Noroeste (northwest) of Sao Paulo, establishing and nurturing churches among the lowly, serving as pastor and counsellor to numerous flocks and as district superintendent to the new districts that came into existence largely as a result of his labors. In Birigui he founded Colegio Noroeste which today offers primary and secondary education as well as the normal and business courses to over a thousand boys and girls who otherwise would have no school.

The seven years spent in Sao Carlos offered a bit more in physical comfort but no relaxation in effort. And so it was not surprising that the many who referred to Cyrus B. Dawsey as "meu pai espiritual" elected him bishop in 1946. Until that date, Bishop Tarboux had been the only American to be elected bishop by the General Conference of the outonomous Brazilian church. Bishop Dawsey truly was one among the meek to inherit the earth. He who had never sought prestige nor position for himself heard the call, "Friend, go up higher." He brought to the episcopacy years of rich experience and a deep understanding of people and their problems. He never lost his special concern for the forgotten rural population and did much to awaken rural pastors to their responsibilities for the whole of life. That a fine rural church program | Marshlea and their three children (now has come into existence among the Methodists of Brazil is due to a large 18 degree to his interest and efforts. 16

After being made bishop, Cyrus 3.16 Dawsey went with his family to live in '4 Piracicaba, a town that the family had 6 come to love. It was there that Ethel 7 Sanders Dawsey died in 1948, and was 0 laid to rest in the land she loved and 0 served so well.

Surely the blood of pioneers ran in 8 the veins of the Dawsey children. In 9 1937, the oldest daughter, Ethel, and her husband Albert Ream, arrived in Brazil¹ where they were to establish the Meth- 3 odist Church's first School of Sacred 5 Music for the preparation of choir di- 5 rectors. The Reams accomplished much 1 in stimulating church music as, for twelve years in Sao Paulo and eight in 5 Rio de Janeiro, they taught music and 2 trained choir directors and teachers. To- 4 day the result of their training is evident 18 in the schools and churches.

2 In 1941, Sarah was sent to Colegio Bennett in Rio to pioneer in pre-primary education. She set up the first nursery school in Brazil and trained teachers for 3 this work. Today the nursery school at Colegio Bennett is a model for pre-D primary education. It is a four-year course and has a long waiting list of 6 J

Thy Kingdom Come

THE FANNER BEES

In his book on "The Lord's Prayer" Glenn Clark tells a parable of the "Fanner Bees."

A visitor to a hive was impressed by a whirring sound.

The old bee-keeper told him that it was the sound of the fanner bees, standing with lowered heads toward the center of the hive, and with wings moving wondrously fast, fanning the bad air out through one side of the entrance and sucking in the pure air on the other side.

We all know persons whom they typify.

They hold not their lives dear unto themselves, but give them freely for the brightening and freshening of life about them.

'I he Rev. W. E. Seifert III, pastor of Sandy Springs Charge, and his wife announce the birth of a daughter, Rebecca Lee. She arrived July 16. She was baptized by her father on Sunday morning, July 31, at Sandy Springs.

SUNDAY FARM POLICY

Fred R. Atkinson

To the Editor.

We noted that a conference of farm leaders had been called for Sunday, August 21, in Des Moines, Iowa, by the politicos for the purpose of arriving a a national farm policy. This might have been a plausible news item from Soviet Russia where materialism is god. Is there such a shortage of food and fibre as to justify the use of the Sabbath thus? Has our stomach taken precedence over our souls and is this a sign of the times?

RESOLUTION

IN TRIBUTE TO DR. J. M. ARIAIL

Unanimously Passed June 23, 1960, by South Carolina Annual Conference, The Methodist Church

Whereas, the term of service for a number of members of the Board of Pensions will expire at the close of this Annual Conference, among these being some who had served many years before our present eight-year rule; and,

Wherens, numbered among these is Dr. J. M. Ariail, who was reared in a Methodist parsonage and who, as a layman, felt called of God to champion the cause of adequate support for retired ministers, their wives, and children; and, Whereas, during his thirty-year term of service on the Board of Pensions, the maximum pension allowance has increased over 700 per cent: and. Whereas, during the past four years in which he has served as Chairman of the Board of Pensions, we have so consistently raised the annuity rate that the present Annual Conference set the annuity rate at $60 per service year, thereby keeping the payment to retired ministers in proportion to the payment of active ministers;

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the South Carolina Conference, in session June 23, 1960, express its appreciation to all outgoing members of this Board and especially to Dr. Ariail for his insight and dedication as expressed through his leadership in this very important area of the Church's concern for its ministry. RE: MISS LILLIAN KNOBLES

Miss ^Lillian Knobles was a missionary in China since 1921, and did outstanding teaching in McTyeire School in Shanghai. She is now unable to return to her field. Bennett College in Rio de ^Janeiro is asking for a specialist in the teaching of English, and Miss Knobles has been assigned to their staff. The request came that she arrive in time for the opening of the new college course this March. We have been endeavoring since last September to get Miss Knobles there, and finally secured gll the necessary permits.

Miss Knobles is a woman of rather outstanding character. She is calm and cool in difficult situations. We feel that it is not a mere coincidence that a China missionary is being transferred to Brazil, but that Miss Knobles is the type of person who can interpret the best in China and the best in America to the Brazilian people, and we know that she goes with the desire to understand and appreciate what Brazil is trying to do in fostering higher education for women.

Bishop Cyrus Bassett Dawsey, a son of South Carolina, and long known as "the Asbury of Brazil" because of his tireless pioneer work, most of it carried on from horseback, in that republic, will be the guest-speaker at Bishop Dawsey will tell something of his work in Brazil, and of the opportunities for Christian service there.

It was at the General Conference of the Methodist Church of Brazil, in 1946, that Dr. Dawsey was elected to the episcopacy. For thirty-two years prior to that election he had travelled throughout the northwestern part of the State of Sao Paulo, "extending the church," keeping in advance of the rapidly expanding frontier, gathering peoples from many varied backgrounds into churches, and helping them in the erection of scores of new church edifices. The territory he served was marked, only a few years ago, on the maps of Brazil as "Unknown -- inhabited by Indians." Perhaps more than any other man of any race or nation, he helped make it known to civilization and to the Christian gospel.

One of the churches he organized, that at Biriguy, is perhaps the best organized and largest Methodist church in the state. On the official board there were and are Brazilians, North Americans, English, Spanish, Portuguese, Japanese and Italians -- an index of the complex makeup of the countryside.

It is told that on one occasion Dr. Dawsey, returning from a tiring journey of several days, found most of the people fleeing the town because of a revolutionary army that was reported ready to take it. It was expected that he would hurry his family from the town also. Instead he remounted his horse, rode through the town and countryside, and called the evangelicals to a prayer meeting in the little church that released upon receipt

evening. While everyone else was fleeing, the Methodists gathered in their sanctuary in song and praise and prayer. The next day, when the revolutionary leaders arrived in town, Dr. Dawsey was at the railroad station to meet them. The town was spared any damage.

Bishop Dawsey was born in Aymor, South Caroline, and was educated at Wofford College. While still in college he was appointed to a pastorate near the college, and that same year was admitted into membership in the South Carolina Annual Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Three years later, in 1914, he was appointed a missionary to Brazil.

Four New Methodist Buildings Dedicated in Brazil

The four new buildings of Colegio Americano, Methodism's notable school in Porto Alegre, Brazil, were dedicated on March 20. Farticipating in the service were the three bishops of the Methodist Church of Brazil --- Bishop Cesar Darcoso of the North Brazil Conference, Bishop Cyrus B. Dawsey of the Central Brazil Conference, and Bishop Isaias Sucasas of the South Brazil Conference. Dr. Derly Chaves, pastor of Central Methodist Church in Porto Alegre and president of the Board of Trustees of the school, presided and spoke on the history of the institution. Miss Eliabeth M. Lee, executive secretary of the Woman's Division of Christian Service in Latin America, represented the Board of Missions, and presented the buildings to the Methodist Church of Brazil.

The service of dedication, in Portuguese, followed the Methodist ritual for the dedication of schools. On the platform were distinguished citizens of the city and friends of the school, and the large auditorium was filled with parents and other guests; while the student body of over 600 filled the galleries and the adjoining gymnasium.

This new school is situated on a high hill commanding a superb view of the city and harbor. The four buildings are Pfeiffer Hall, containing the administration offices and classrooms and given by the late Mrs. Henry Pfeiffer in memory of her husband; the Elizabeth M. Lee auditorium and gymnasium building; the social life building; and the dormitory. In addition a beautiful chapel is being built, the gift of graduates, students, parents and friends of the school. Upon completion it will be dedicated in a special service.

The construction of this new plant has been made possible by the Pfeiffer gift, and by the contributions to the Woman's Divison for this project by many friends from all parts of the United States. The work itself is due to the planning and supervision of Miss Mary Sue Brown, architect and builder, who through the difficult period of the war has surmounted many obstacles in order to achieve the dream of her lifetime in these new buildings for the school where she has for many years served as principal. Colegic Americano now rejoices in one of the most beautiful and adequate group of buildings owned by the Methodist Church in any part of the world.

Brazil Re-elects Its Bishops

A report from the recent General Conference of the Methodist Church in Brazil says that all three present bishops (who serve four-year terms) were re-elected: Bishop Cesar Dacorso, Bishop Cyrus B. Dawsey, and Bishop Isaias Sucasas. The Rev. Charles W. Clay, missionary, was elected executive secretary of the Board of Education; the Rev. Wilbur K. Smith, missionary, executive secretary of the Board of Social Action; and the Rev. Augusto Schwab, executive secretary of the Board of Missions. The most drastic action taken by the General Conference was a vote to make tithing mandatory upon all church members.

SKETCH OF REV. C. B. DAWSEY OF BRAZIL

Rev. C. B. Dawsey comes from South Carolina. His father was an exhorter in the Southern Methodist Church and was especially gifted in soulwinning. He died as a young man and left his wife with a large family of children, whom she reared in a remarkable manner.

Mr. Dawsey was educated at Wofford College, and was appointed to fill the unexpired term of a pastor who had to give up his work for health reasons even before he (Mr. Dawsey) had completed the work of his senior year. He was admitted on trial in the South Carolina Conference in 1911 and into full connection in 1913. He sailed for Brazil in June, 1914.

Mr. Dawsey is widely known for his love of pioneer work. Because of his interest in the distant outposts and his great success in pioneer work, Mr. Dawsey has often been called "The Asoury of Brazil."

About two years after he reached Brazil, Mr. Dawsey was sent in 1916 to the vast Northwest District in the Central Brazil Conference which section at that time had just been opened up -- territory that only a few years before had been marked on the map as "unknown territory occupied by Indians." As the Northwest Railroad was put through, the section was opened to settlers and thousands of people from all parts of Brazil and from foreign countries rushed into this new region. The Southern Methodist Church followed the movement and began missionary work among the people of this section even before the Roman Cathodic Church did.

To this new territory Mr. Dawsey came in 1916 and here he spent thirteen years, traveling over wide circuits, preaching to the people in these new and raw towns and helping them in many ways. He established a number of churches, the one at Biriguy being probably the largest and best organized. On the official church board here he had Brazilians, Americans, English, Spenish, Japanese, and Italians. He traveled a circuit as large as the whole state of North Caroline and had to be away from home for days and weeks at a time.

An interesting story is told of Mr. Dawsey, who coming home from a long itinerary found most of the people freeing from the town to get away from a revolutionary army which was reported to be drawing nigh. Everybody expected that the missionary would hurry in and take his family away, but instead he remounted his horse, though weary from many long miles or /fiding and preaching, and rode all over the town to visit his "creentes" (believers). He called them together in the little church that night, and while everybody else was fleeing in panic, the Methodists gathered in the sanctuary, singing and receiving encouragement from their leader. The next day when the leaders of the revolution actually arrived, Mr. Dawsey was at the station to meet them.

After a furlough in America in 1929-1930, Mr. Dawsy was again sent out to a pioneer region -- to the town of Marilia also in the great State of Sao Paulo, the "coffee land" of Brazil. He reached Marilia, which had been opened to civilization only about five years, in November 1930, and since that time his work has been in this section. His circuit extended 120 miles along the railroad that had been put through the territory, and as presiding elder his district included the rea just mentioned and additional territory extending about 300 miles along the Sorocabano Railway. The far end of his district was 400 miles from his home in Marilia.

Reports from Mr. Dawsey of the work in this new field carried a great challenge to the home Church. He said:

"The opportunities of the Church in this region are the opportunities of a new work in a new field of unlimited possibilities. If we had a sufficient number of workers, this great district could be increased to many times its present size, because for hundreds of miles to the south and thousands of miles to the west, there stretches a vast territory where no preacher ever goes."

Mr. Dawsey's report of his work for the year 1937 made at the meeting of the A nual Conference in Brazil included the following items:

Received into the church -----over 100; 69 by profession of faith Made 650 visits Directed 284 services Traveled 9,179 kilometers Builet two churches Organized a number of Sunday Schools and missionary societies

Mr. Dawsey was again returned to Marilia, where he was at work until he came to the States on furlough in March, 1938. He was elected a delegate to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which met in Birmingham, Alabama, in April, 1938.

I was born in Galivants Ferry township, Ho:ry County, South Carolina.

My father, Cyrus Dawsey, was an exhorter in the Southern Methodist Church. He was especially gifted in soul-winning, and had he lived it is quite likely that he would have gone into the active ministry of the Church which he loved so much. He died a young man, and before my birth, yet the sacred influence of the consecrated life which he left to his children has been one of the great powers for good in my life.

My mother was Miss Margaret Jenrett. At my father's death she was left a poor woman to rear eight children that had been left to her care. No woman ever possessed groater will power and zeal. These soupled with her faith in Christ made her bear heroically the responsibility that had fallen upon her at the time of my father's doath.

In answer to prayer and through the influence of Christian loved ones and friends, I was led to give my heart to God when about 15 years of age. I immediately joined the Rehoboth M.E. Church, under the pastorate of Rev. I.N. Stone, then on the Baybore circuit, Mation district, South Carolina conference. Soon after I was led to believe that as a minister of the Gospel I could best carry out God's will concerning my lige. To that end I began to prepare myself by borrowing the money and taking a course at Wofford College Fitting School at Spartanburg, S.C.

In 1906 I entered Wofford College very poorly prepared. My first year of college life was very hard and it looked often as if l would not be able to finish the course. However, each year the woek became more interesting and I steadily advanced, finishing in h the class of 1910. While in college I corresponding secretary, monthly orator, third critic, recording secretary, vice president, and president of the Carlisle Literary Society; speaker on Freshman Exhibition; Sophomore speaker; speaker on oratorical contest of '08, '09, '10; secretary of Y.M.C.A.; president of Y.M.C.A.; ppresident of Student Volunteer band; president of class '09-10.

While a Freshman in fofford College I joined the StudentVolunteer band, influence by a Japanese classmate of mine, Mr. T. Murata. Also during my Preshman year 1 was licensed to preach. As a senior I was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Rev. A.D. Jackson, of Pacolet Mills, who gave up work because of health. I served my quadrennium here and while there married Liss Ethel Sanders, of Spartanburg. I was received into the Bouth Carolina conference on trial at Bennettville, December 1911. Admitted into full connection at Rock Hill in 1918 . At this conference I was transferred to the Brazil conference.

Secretary to Dr. Goddard

I was born near the little town of Belmont, N. C., June 9, 1889. I was the ninth child in a family of ten children - six boys and four girls. My father, William Erwin Sanders, was of English descent. He was a man respected and loved by all who knew him. His was a generous and affectionate nature. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church. My mother before her marriage was Sarah Fewell, the daughter of Ezekiel Fewell of York County, South Carolina. She is of Scotch-Irish descent. Her ancestors, as far back as can be traced, were Presbyterians, and she was brought up according to the strict manner of the old-fashioned Presbyterian home.

We lived in the country until I was about nine years old. My father's failing health, due to a wound received during the war between the States, made it necessary for him to give up active work, and we moved to Spartanburg where there wase good school advantages for the children.

I was graduated from the Spartanburg High School in June 1916. I received at that time a gold medal for the highest average in English.

The following summer I stood the competitive examination for a scholarship to Winthrop College and was awarded the same. Was graduated from that institution June, 1910. During my college career I had the following honors: Class Annual Editor, 1906-07; College Marshal 1908-09; Member of Curry Society for three years; Charter member of Wade-Hampton Society; on Executive Committee of Wade-Hampton Society; Debater in Public meeting of Wade-Hampton Society, 1909; Y.W.C.A. Journal Editor, 1908-09; Delegate to Conference at Due West, 1909; Delegate to Asheville Conference, 1909; and to Student Volunteer Convention, Rochester, N. Y., 1910; President of Y.W.C.A., 1909-10.

After graduation I taught two years. The first year I was Principal of a large country school near Holly Hill, S. C. The second year I taught a first grade in the city schools of Spartanburg.

Was married to Rev. C. B. Dawsey on Thursday, June 27, 1912.

In regard to my religious life, I do not know any exact date of conversion. I believe that since I can remember I have loved my Savier and tried to do the things that were pleasing to Him. There have been times of special enlightenment and times when my spiritual life was decidedly deepened. I became a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Spartanburg July, 5, 1903, and remained a member of that church until soon after my marriage, when my membership was transferred to the Methodist Episcipal Church, South.
