BALARAM, BISHOP P. C. BENJAMIN
Bishop P. C. Benjamin Balaram, 59, head of the Lucknow Area of The Methodist Church in Southern Asia (India), died of a heart attack, January 17, in Lucknow. Elected a bishop by India Methodist Central Conference in 1965, he was one of four Methodist bishops in India.

Before his election to the episcopacy, Bishop Balaram was director of public relations and promotion for The Methodist Church in Southern Asia and secretary of the Delhi Area. From September, 1960, to August, 1961, he was on the executive staff of the Methodist Board of Missions in New York, doing educational and interpretive work in the field of missions.

Born in Hyderabad, he was trained at the University of Edinburgh. He entered the educational work of The Methodist Church in India and became principal of the Poonamba High School in 1956. He became a minister in 1962, and served as pastor and then as district superintendent. He was awarded the Medal of Merit by the British Government for public service.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. P. C. B. Balaram; two daughters, Mrs. Sidram Kurnkati, and Mrs. Satya Solomon; and a son, John.
BISHOP BALARAM DIES

Bishop P. C. Benjamin Balaram, 59, head of the Lucknow Area of the Methodist Church in Southern Asia (India), died of a heart attack January 17 in Lucknow.

Elected a bishop by India Methodist Central Conference in 1965, Bishop Balaram was the episcopal leader of 30,836 Methodists in the Bengal and Lucknow Conferences, which comprise the Lucknow Area. He was one of four Methodist bishops in India.

From September 1960, to August, 1961, Bishop Balaram was on the executive staff of the Methodist Board of Missions in New York, doing educational and interpretive work in the field of missions. He studied five years in the United States.

Born in Hyderabad, Bishop Balaram was trained as a civil engineer at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland. He entered the educational work of The Methodist Church in India and became principal of the Puntamba High School in 1938. He became a minister in 1943, and served as pastor in Puntamba and district superintendent in Puntamba and Muzaffarnagar. He was a delegate to the quadrennial Methodist General Conference four times. He was awarded the Medal of Merit by the British Government for public service.

Bishop Balaram was a leader in both Methodist and ecumenical circles in India.

WORLD OUTLOOK
March 1963
Bishop Balaram Dies

Bishop P. C. Balaram, episcopal leader of 20,636 Methodists in the church's Lucknow, India, Area, died of a heart attack January 17.

Before his 1965 election to the episcopacy, Bishop Balaram had been director of public relations and promotion for the Methodist Church in Southern Asia and secretary of the Delhi Area. He served a year in 1960-61 with the executive staff of the Board of Missions in New York and was recognized in his own country as an ecumenical leader. He was president of India Methodism's Board of Lay Activities and chairman of its Council on Literature and Publications. This past December he led a Protestant-Roman Catholic dialogue in India.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters and a son.
From the world parish, delegates will gather in Dallas, Texas, April 21 through May 4, 1968, for the historic Uniting Conference of the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Here legislation affecting you and your church is adopted and changed. This is your legislature—the only policy-making body of your church. Petitions from local church members from all parts of the nation will be reviewed by 1200 plus delegates (half ministers, half laymen) elected to represent your Annual Conference.

Attend this historic conference if you can. If you cannot attend, you can follow the full proceedings by reading the DAILY CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE—word for word report edited and printed in Dallas and sent to you ALL MAIL daily. Or you may subscribe for the complete set of main issues mailed at the close of the Uniting Conference. Hard cover bound volumes of the DAILY CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will also be available about September 1, 1968.
NEW YORK -- Bishop P.C. Benjamin Balaram, 59, head of the Lucknow Area of the Methodist Church in Southern Asia (India), died of a heart attack late Wednesday night (January 17) in Lucknow.

Elected a bishop by India Methodist Central Conference in 1965, Bishop Balaram was the episcopal leader of 20,836 Methodists in the Bengal and Lucknow Conferences, which comprise the Lucknow Area. He was one of four Methodist bishops in India.

Before his election to the episcopacy, Bishop Balaram had been director of public relations and promotion for The Methodist Church in Southern Asia and secretary of the Delhi Area. In those positions, Bishop Balaram had worked with the Indian Government and with newspapers in matters relating to The Methodist Centenary celebration, and was instrumental in arranging the American tour of the Indian Methodist Centenary Choir.

From September 1960, to August, 1961, Bishop Balaram was on the executive staff of the Methodist Board of Missions in New York, doing educational and interpretive work in the field of missions. He studied five years in the United States. He received the bachelor of arts degree from Albion College, Albion, Mich., and the master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh, where he studied as a Crusade Scholar. Oklahoma City University, a Methodist-related institution, conferred on him the honorary degree of doctor of divinity.

Born in Hyderabad, Bishop Balaram was trained as a civil engineer at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland. He entered the educational work of The Methodist Church in India and became principal of the Puntamba High School in 1936. He became a minister in 1943, and served as pastor in Puntamba and district superintendent in Puntamba and Musaffarnagar. He was a delegate to the quadrennial Methodist General Conference four times. He was awarded the Medal of Merit by the British Government for public service.

Bishop Balaram was a leader in both Methodist and ecumenical circles in India. He was president of India Methodist's Board of Lay Activities and chairman of its Council on Literature and Publications. In December he had chaired a Protestant-Roman Catholic dialogue in India. He was a member of the executive committee of the National Christian Council of India and of the Commission on the Structure of Methodism Overseas (COSMOS). He was chairman of the Board of Isabella Thoburn College, the first Christian college for women in Asia, and chairman of the Board of Lucknow Christian College, Lucknow.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. P.C.B. Balaram of the home; two daughters, Mrs. Sidram Kurukoti, 225 East 70th Street, New York, and Mrs. Satya Solomon of the home, and a son, John, who lives in Canada. The funeral was Friday (January 19) in Lucknow.

**** **** ****

(January 19, 1968)
Rev. P.C.B. BALARAM

M.I.A.M.I.
A Methodist of Delhi India. He is a member of Delhi Annual Conference. His present appointment is Secretary Public Relations of the Methodist Church in India. He is also Secretary for Cultivation and Promotion for Delhi Episcopal Area.

He received his early education in India and University of Edinburgh, Scotland. He won a crusade scholarship for study in America. He received his A.B. degree from Albion College, Albion Michigan. His masters degree he received from University of Pittsburgh, Pa. Oklahoma City University has conferred on him the honorary degree of D.D.

Dr. Balaram has 27 years of service with the church. He held many responsible positions. He was Principal of High School for 11 years, served as a Pastor and District Superintendent, Director of conference Youth work and Adult Education. Before coming to this present position he was the Director of Centenary Movement and Celebrations of the Methodist Church in Southern Asia which celebrated it in November 1956. He was a delegate at General Conference three times.
D. D. to Indian Methodist Leader

An Indian Methodist leader, who is known to many Methodists in the United States, will receive an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Oklahoma City University May 22.

The Rev. P. C. Benjamin Balaram, who has visited the United States several times and has studied in two American colleges, will receive the D. D. degree at the Oklahoma City University commencement exercises. The university is Methodist-related, and the president is the Rev. Dr. Jack Wilkes, a Methodist minister.

A former Crusade scholar and a delegate to the 1952 Methodist General Conference, Mr. Balaram is now secretary for public relations of the Methodist Church in Southern Asia and secretary of promotion for the Delhi episcopal area. He has headquarters in Delhi and works with the Indian Government and with newspapers in matters relating to the Methodist Church. In 1953 he was the organizing secretary for the Indian Methodist Centenary celebration and was instrumental in arranging the American tour of the Indian Methodist Centenary Choir.

Mr. Balaram studied five years in the United States. He received the bachelor of arts degree from Albion College, Albion, Mich., and the master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh, where he studied as a Crusade scholar. During his student years, while here as a delegate from the Delhi Methodist Conference to the 1952 General Conference and on other visits, Mr. Balaram has spoken extensively in Methodist churches.

Born in Hyderabad, Mr. Balaram was trained as a civil engineer at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland. He entered the educational work of the Methodist Church in India and became principal of the Ponteoba High School in 1936. He became a minister in 1943 and served as pastor and district superintendent.

While in the United States this time, Mr. Balaram will speak in churches, districts and annual conferences in Louisiana, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and other states. He will be on the program at the Southeastern Jurisdiction Missionary Conference at Lake Junaluska, N.C., in July and will attend the annual Methodist Furloughed Missionary Conference at Greencastle, Ind., in June. He expects to leave for India in August.
He Envisions a Better Rural Life in India

American methods of improving community life are being fitted to the needs of a district of India by Rev. P.C.B. Balaram, principal of the Rural High School of the Methodist Church, Puntamba, near Bombay.

"I am interested in a plant where I can spend summer vacations in training social workers to meet both urban and rural needs," says Mr. Balaram.

An Indian by birth, Mr. Balaram was trained as a civil engineer in Scotland, and came to America as a "Crusade Scholar" under sponsorship of American Methodists. He received his master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh last August.

Earlier he had received the A.B. degree from Albion College, Mich., where he was elected to membership in O.D.K. honorary fraternity.

Mr. Balaram is developing a program of extension service geared to the economic, social, and religious needs of villagers. An ordained minister, he is superintendent of Methodist work in the Puntamba district, the largest rural section in the Bombay Conference. He is principal of the only high school in that area of Methodism.

While in America, Mr. Balaram was in demand as a speaker on Mahatma Gandhi, Indian culture, and Methodism in India. After completing his two years of study, he stayed an additional three months to fill speaking engagements in the interest of the "Advance for Christ and His Church" in which all Methodism is taking part. He returned to India in November.

His thesis for his master's degree was a study of religious-group conflicts in the development of democracy in India. While at Albion he wrote on the cultural background of a Hindu marriage and India's struggle for freedom.
Mr. Balaram is former secretary of the All-India Conference of Christians and has represented his country in religious conferences in Europe and in America. Speaking at Buck Hill Falls during a meeting of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church, he said, "Indian Christians do not want American young men to die in India fighting Communism, but to live there in a Christian way."

Mr. Balaram is married and has a son and two daughters.
An Indian civil engineer, trained in Scotland, who has put his experience to use in India in the development of a unique agricultural and industrial high school, and has also been ordained a minister of the Methodist Church under which he works in his native land, will be the guest-speaker at on

- He is the Rev. P. C. Benjamin Balaran, principal of the Rural High School of the Methodist Church, Puntamba, near Bombay, India. He is at present a post-graduate student at the University of Pittsburgh, preparing himself further for social reconstruction and village economic betterment in rural India.

Principal Balaran was born in Hyderabad City, in the Deccan, India. His training in civil engineering was taken at the University of Edinburgh. Later he took a B. A. degree at Albion College, Michigan. Returning to India he entered the educational service of the Methodist Church, becoming principal of Puntamba High School in 1936. He was ordained a minister of the Methodist Church in 1942 and was named superintendent of the Puntamba District of the Bombay Annual Conference in addition to his principalship. In 1947 he was secretary of the All-India Conference of Christians which met in New Delhi, India, and he has represented his native land in religious conferences in Europe and in America.

When Principal Balaran returns to India later this year, he will take over the High School work again and endeavor to gear it even more closely to the economic, social and religious needs of Indian villages and villagers.
Will you please fill in such questions as are applicable and return to W.W. Reid, Department of News Service, Board of Missions and Church Extension, 150 Fifth Ave., New York 11, N.Y. The information will be available for newspaper releases where you are speaking, and for other news use.

Name: [Handwritten]

Permanent American address: [Handwritten]

Where born: [Handwritten]

Parents names:

Schools - Colleges - Degrees (years)

What work (where? when?) between school and missionary service:

When appointed a missionary (or deaconess or pastor):

If ordained, when? where? by? 1943, Bombay Conference

When did you first go into mission work? where stationed:

Places of service -- types of work -- institutions -- years, etc:

Foreign languages spoken; other talents:

Any books written? special research? please describe:

Description of your special work on field (needs of people, opportunities, numbers reached, plans for future, etc.) Anything else of interest to church people, or newspaper readers:

[Handwritten]
The Rev. P.C.B. Balaram, D.D., an Indian Methodist leader, who is known to many Methodists in the United States, will be the guest-speaker at

A former Crusade scholar, Dr. Balaram was elected in September 1960 as the associate director of the Department of Field Cultivation of the Methodist Board of Missions. He is doing general educational and interpretive work in the field of missions. He was formerly secretary for public relations of the Methodist Church in Southern Asia and secretary of promotion for the Delhi episcopal area of the Methodist Church. He had headquarters in Delhi, India, and worked with the Indian Government and with newspapers in matters relating to the Methodist Church. In 1956, he was the organizing secretary for the Indian Methodist Centenary celebration and was instrumental in arranging the American tour of the Indian Methodist Centenary Choir.

Dr. Balaram studied five years in the United States. He received the bachelor of arts degree from Albion College, Albion, Mich., and the master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh, where he studied as a Crusade scholar. Oklahoma City University, a Methodist-related institution, conferred on him the honorary degree of doctor of divinity in May of this year.

Born in Hyderabad, Dr. Balaram was trained as a civil engineer at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland. He entered the educational work of the Methodist Church in India and became principal of the Puntamba High School in 1936. He became a minister in 1943 and served as pastor and district superintendent. He has been a delegate to the quadrennial General Conference, the highest law-making body of Methodism, three times.

-- 60 --
9 New Executives in Board of Missions

The Methodist Board of Missions elected nine new staff executives at its quadrennial reorganization meeting in Chicago on Sept. 21. Heading the list was a layman, chosen as the top executive of one of the board's four divisions.

The executives will fill administrative, service and promotional positions on the staff of the board and the divisions. Other members of the executive staff were re-elected. The new executives:

H. Conwell Snoke, Philadelphia, Pa., elected general secretary of the Division of National Missions, succeeding the Rev. Dr. V. Vernon Middleton who was elected in June as bishop of the Western Pennsylvania area of the Methodist Church. Mr. Snoke formerly was treasurer of the division.

George L. Hergesheimer, Philadelphia, Pa., elected treasurer of the Division of National Missions. He formerly was associate treasurer and comptroller.

The Rev. Charles A. Nowlen, Pueblo, Colo., elected as a director of church extension in the National division, with responsibility for the Western Methodist Jurisdiction. He has been pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church in Pueblo.

The Rev. John Harry Graham, Atlanta, Ga., elected as a director of special fields in the National division. He has been professor of the sociology of religion at Gammon Theological Seminary.

The Rev. Dr. Ernest V. May, Pittsburgh, Pa., elected as a director of city work in the National division. He formerly was executive secretary of the Board of Missions of the Pittsburgh Methodist Conference.

Leonard M. Perryman, New York City and Leonia, N. J., elected as director of the Department of News Service in the Joint Section of Education and Cultivation, effective in January on the retirement of William W. Reid who has given more than 40 years of service to Methodist missions. Until then Mr. Perryman will continue as associate director of the department.

The Rev. Dr. P. C. Benjamin Balaram, Delhi, India, elected as associate director of the Department of Field Cultivation in the Joint Section. He has been secretary for promotion and public relations of the Delhi area of the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Herbert F. Lowe, New York City and Nyack, New York, elected as associate director of the Department of Visual Education in the Joint Section. He has been assistant director.

The Rev. Theodore Runyan, New York City, elected as assistant secretary for general administration in the Division of World Missions. He is a former missionary to Malaya.

H. Conwell Snoke — In his new office, Mr. Snoke will direct the extensive program of the Division of National Missions in the 50 states and Puerto Rico. He will head a staff of specialists and administrators in home missions (including urban work, rural work, and work among minorities) and in church extensions. He is the first layman to hold the top executive post in the division.

Born in Philadelphia, Mr. Snoke was graduated from Frankfort High School, the University of Pennsylvania (bachelor of arts) and Temple University (bachelor of law). He was a practicing attorney when he joined the staff of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the former Methodist Episcopal Church (predecessor of the National division) in 1932. He has successively been assistant treasurer, associate treasurer and treasurer of the division.

Mr. Snoke is treasurer of the Division of Home Missions of the National Council of Churches, president of the Methodist Investment Fund, first vice-president of the Goodwill Industries of America and a member of the board of the Alaska Methodist University, Hawaii Pacific Homes and Spartanburg Junior College.
He is a member of St. James Methodist Church in Philadelphia.

George L. Hergesheimer -- As treasurer of the National division, Mr. Hergesheimer will be the principal financial officer of a home missions and church extension budget totaling $5,500,000 annually. The division's funds are used to support mission work in the United States and as loans and grants to new Methodist churches for building purposes and pastors' salaries.

Born in Philadelphia, Mr. Hergesheimer is a graduate of the Wharton School of Business Administration of the University of Pennsylvania. He was in turn an accountant for Price, Waterhouse and Company in Philadelphia, an accountant for the RCA Victor Company in Camden, N. J., and assistant auditor for the Philadelphia Saving Fund Society. In 1949 he joined the division staff as associate treasurer and in 1952 was named comptroller as well. He is treasurer of the Board of Education of the Philadelphia Methodist Conference, treasurer of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association and a member of the First Methodist Church of Germantown (where he is on the Official Board and the Commission on Missions).

Charles A. Nowlen -- In his new work, Mr. Nowlen will cover the 12-state Western Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church, dealing with local churches regarding loans and grants for building purposes. A native of Longmont, Colo., he is a graduate of the University of Denver (bachelor of arts) and the Iliff School of Theology (bachelor of divinity). He has been superintendent of the Frontier Methodist district of Wyoming and pastor of the John Collins Methodist Church in Denver, the Wheat Ridge church near Denver, and the First Methodist Churches of Casper, Cody and Sheridan. He has been a delegate to Methodist General Conferences. He is a member of the Rocky Mountain Methodist Conference.

John Harry Graham -- Mr. Graham will work in a variety of ways with annual conferences representing various minority groups in the Methodist Church and especially those in the Central (Negro) Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church. Born in Corinth, Miss., he was educated at Clark College (bachelor of arts), Gammon Theological Seminary (bachelor of divinity) and Drew University (master of arts).
He has been pastor of Methodist churches in Corinth, Holly Springs and Amory, Miss., and Macon, Ga., superintendent of the Starkville (Miss.) and Holly Springs Methodist districts, and professor of Bible and sociology at Rust College. He is a member of the Upper Mississippi Methodist Conference and has been chairman of its Commission on World Service and Finance and Board of Ministerial Training. He has been a delegate to four Methodist General Conferences.

Ernest V. May — As one of two executives in the National division's Department of City Work, Dr. May will work in various ways to strengthen the Methodist program in the urban areas of America. He is a graduate of Waynesburg College (bachelor of arts) and Garrett Biblical Institute (bachelor of divinity) and holds the honorary doctor of divinity degree from Waynesburg College. As executive secretary of the Pittsburgh Conference Board of Missions, he led in developing a Methodist strategy for the city, including starting new churches in growing suburbs and keeping Methodist congregations in the inner city. He has also been superintendent of the Pittsburgh Methodist district and pastor of the Meyersdale, Somerset and Schenley Heights Methodist Churches in Pittsburgh and the Ellwood City Methodist Church, and a U. S. Navy chaplain in World War II. He has been a Methodist General Conference delegate and for four years was a member of the Methodist Board of Missions.

Leonard M. Perryman — When he assumes office in January, Mr. Perryman will be in charge of gathering and disseminating news and feature material about Methodist missions in the United States and 52 countries overseas. Born in Independence, Mo., he is a graduate of Missouri Valley College (bachelor of arts). He has been director of public relations at Missouri Valley and a reporter for the Daily Democrat-News in Marshall, Mo., and The Kansas City Star. He joined the Board of Missions staff in 1951 as a news writer and became associate director of the Department of News Service in 1956. He is a member of the Methodist Press Association, the National Religious Publicity Council and the Leonia Methodist Church (and its Official Board).
F. C. Benjamin Balaram -- Dr. Balaram is the second representative of the Methodist Church overseas to be chosen to do general educational and interpretive work among American Methodists regarding the church overseas. Born in Hyderabad, he is a graduate of Albion College (bachelor of arts) and the University of Pittsburgh (master of arts), where he studied as a Methodist Crusade Scholar. He has been a teacher and principal of Methodist schools in India and a pastor and district superintendent. In 1956 he was the organizing secretary for the Indian Methodist Centenary celebration and was instrumental in arranging the American tour of the Indian Centenary Choir. In May he received the honorary doctor of divinity degree from Oklahoma City University.

Herbert F. Lowe -- In his new position, Mr. Lowe will have special responsibility for distribution, promotion and utilization of audio-visuals (films, filmstrips, records, etc.) produced by the Board of Missions. He was educated at Brooklyn College, Boston University and the Yale University Divinity School, and is currently working toward a doctor of philosophy degree at Columbia University. He has been executive secretary of the Mt. Vernon Council of Churches, supervisor of visual aids for the Methodist Publishing House in New York and president of Geneva Films, Inc., a motion picture production company. He has had considerable experience in writing scripts and producing films for various Protestant denominations. Since 1957 he has been employed in the Board's Department of Visual Education. He is a member of the New York East Methodist Conference.

Theodore Runyan -- As a general administrative officer in the Division of World Missions, Mr. Runyan will work closely with the Rev. Dr. Eugene L. Smith, general secretary. Born in Kansas, he is a graduate of Baker University (bachelor of arts), Duke University (master of arts) and Yale University (bachelor of divinity). As a missionary to Malaya, he was principal of the Anglo-Chinese Schools in Ipoh and Penang, superintendent of the Northern and Southern Methodist districts, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Churches in Ipoh and Penang, and principal of Trinity College in Singapore. He has also been a U.S. Navy chaplain. For the last two years he has worked as an administrative assistant in the World division offices.
Photographs from this file have not been included but are available upon request. For more information please contact research@gcah.org